

Webinar: Managing Large-Scale Workforce Reductions in the UK during COVID-19

The current pandemic is forcing many companies to make the difficult decision to furlough or terminate employees.

In this webinar we followed a case study from start to finish and addressed the difficult practical issues that arise when carrying out collective redundancies in a COVID-19 context.

Our speakers covered:

- How to manage the process of making 20 or more UK-based employees redundant.
- The dangers and significant liabilities that arise from not following the correct process.
- How to navigate the additional issues created by COVID-19, such as consulting with a remote workforce.
- How technology solutions can help the process.
