Press release - 2 October 2020

GQ|Littler is delighted to have been awarded the Future of Legal Services Innovation Award in the Small-sized Private Practice category at Legal Week's Innovation Awards ceremony.

The Legal Innovation Awards celebrate creative excellence in the legal profession and recognises winners for working on innovative, precedent-setting, game-changing projects and initiatives. Legal Week announced: "GQ|Littler are receiving this award for showing a good example of the benefits of combining legal tech and HR needs".

Many businesses are facing extremely difficult decisions in an unprecedented environment. It's crucial to find solutions to mitigate legal risk and reduce the workload for our clients.

Hannah Mahon paid tribute to the GQ|Littler team: "Winning this award is down to the incredible work of our entrepreneurial team and outstanding achievement in harnessing the power of document automation for the benefit of our clients".

Well done team!
