

Employment tribunals under stress

The Global Legal Post - 25 February 2019

The backlog of outstanding cases at UK employment tribunals rose 77 per cent in July to September 2018 to 23,700, up from 13,360 in the same period in 2017, as tribunals struggle to deal with the high volume of claims coming forward, says GQ Littler, the specialist employment law firm.

You can read the full article here.