The party to mark the end of the gender pay gap is set to be held in 2235

Save the date for what promises to be the hugest party in town. The mayor plans to host a party in Trafalgar Square to celebrate the end of the gender pay gap.

But there is just one catch. Guests have been asked to save the date – in 2235, the year that the World Economic Forum has said the gap will be closed, given the current rate of change.
