

Sexual misconduct reports have doubled in two years, reveal the SRA

Sophie Vanhegan

21st January 2020

LinkedIn
Twitter
Email
Print

Legal Week - 20 January 2020

The number of sexual misconduct reports received by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) has increased by 16%.

The SRA received double the number of sexual misconduct reports in June 2019 than two years ago in 2017.

These figures emerged after partner Sophie Vanhegan submitted a freedom of information request to the SRA, representing a record high of claims.

You can read the full article here. (Please note this publication requires a paid subscription)